Who are the Baptists?

The Baptists are one of the largest Protestant Free Church denominations. At the turn of the 21st century, there were about 43 million Baptists worldwide with about 33 million of those in the United States and 216,000 in Britain. There are over 850,000 Baptists in South America and 230,000 in Central America and the Caribbean. In the United States, the two largest Baptist organizations are the Southern Baptist Churches (SBC) and American Baptist Churches (ABC), with the former being the more conservative branch. Notable Baptists have included Martin Luther King, Jr., Charles Spurgeon, John Bunyan and Billy Graham. Baptist beginnings have also been traced to medieval sects who protested against prevailing baptismal theory and practice. Baptist churches were established in the American colonies from the mid-17th century. In 1905, the Baptist World Alliance was formed for the purpose of international Baptist cooperation. Its headquarters is in McLean, Virginia. Baptists accept the bible as the only authority of faith and its individual and literal interpretation. The Baptist theology holds that Christ died on the cross to give humans the promise of everlasting life, but this requires that each individual accepts Christ into his life and asks for forgiveness. It believes in the "believers' baptism, the priesthood of the believer, and autonomy of the local church. Believer's baptism is an ordinance performed after a person professes Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior, and is symbolic of the cleansing or remission of their sins. There is no infant baptism. The Baptist doctrine of justification by faith states that it is by faith alone that we receive salvation, and not through any works of our own. Baptists generally believe in the literal Second Coming of Christ at which time God will sit in judgment and divide humanity between the saved and the lost. Administration, leadership and doctrine are decided democratically by the lay members of each individual church, which accounts for the variation of beliefs from one Baptist church to another. There are no hierarchical layers of priests. Many conservative Baptists like the Southern Baptists oppose gambling, alcohol, tobacco, and some prohibit dancing and movies.

During this Respect Life Month, we should demonstrate our devotion to a culture of life by supporting Amendment 1 on this November's ballot. Voting for this amendment will result in our state finally having effective limits on the use of taxpayer funds to pay for abortions for women on Medicaid. A blocked law will come into effect, placing WV among the majority of states allowing such taxpayer funding only in cases of danger to the mother's life, rape, and incest.

Lorie's Music Notes

Mark's gospel today reminds us to be servants to one another. "For the Son of Man did not come to be served but to serve and to give his life as a ransom for many." The Offertory song emphasized this theme of service. Jesus served all mankind with his ultimate sacrifice. May we be inspired to serve others in his name...

World Mission Collection: October 21—Today, we celebrate World Mission Sunday! We are called to offer our prayers and generous financial support through the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, for the worldwide mission of Christ. We are asked to reach out to the peripheries, people in remote villages, towns and cities by using the witness and work of missionaries and local priests. Please keep all missionaries in your daily prayers.

The office will be closed on Thursday, October 25, 2018.

All Souls Remembrance—Each November, we remember our departed loved ones with candles to honor them. If you receive collection envelopes, you may complete the front of the All Souls envelope with the names of your deceased and drop it in the collection basket. If you do not receive envelopes and wish to remember your departed loved ones, you may list them on a blank envelope and drop it in the collection basket. The suggested giving level is $5.00 per candle.

Book of the Names of the Dead—A Book of the Names of the Dead has been purchased for each parish and will be placed in the back of the church at St. Anthony and in the gathering space at Our Lady of the Hills. You are invited to record the names of your deceased loved ones for our prayers and remembrance during the month of November. Please enter each name only one time in the book. In the future, you will only need to enter the names of those who have died during the past year. This book is a supplement to our candle remembrance. You will still need to complete and turn in your All Souls envelopes if you wish to remember your deceased with a candle.

Thank You! Thank you!—Father Tijo would like to thank everyone who attended the Our Lady of the Hills picnic, especially those who planned, donated items and worked to make the picnic a great success.
