Extraordinary Jubilee of Mercy

In the “Gospel of Mercy,” Luke tells the life of Jesus with mercy as its main theme. Before even talking about mercy, Jesus made us feel it and see it. He is not afraid of becoming affected by the sick and sinners. He enters into our misery, sees us, and walks with us through conversion. How has God been merciful to you? How can you show that same mercy to others? - Pontifical Council for the Promotion of the New Evangelization

LORIE'S MUSIC NOTES

Today, we celebrate the last of the three manifestations of Epiphany: the wedding feast at Cana. In verse two of the closing song, we will sing of that celebration. The message of today's liturgy is joy because of the marvelous story of the wedding at Cana, which is why we start by joyfully "singing a new song" at the beginning of our celebration. We are officially out of the Christmas Season and back to Ordinary Time, though not for long! There are four Sundays in Ordinary Time before Lent begins!

Office Hours: Monday through Friday 9:00 am to 12:00 pm
